"25 Years From This Sunday" music: Ed Kliman. Lyrics: Kevin McCaughey Vocals: Christy McWilson & Kevin

from English Teachers Everywhere (www.etseverywhere.com)

This song uses lots of active concrete verbs (some particle verbs) and they collocate rather strongly with nouns. You've got 25 (of course) verbs to put into the sentences below. If there are two or more blanks in one sentence, it means you have a multi-word verb, sometimes with a separable. Before listening, though, take some time to write in possible verbs in the right hand column.

bake	box up	bring	check	do
dress	feed	fix	get	get out of hang on	hang up	hold	let it	plan for read	say	set	sign	slice
shovel	stack up	Stay up	tell	turn up

Possible verbs, pre-listening

1	Who'll	the sheets	_?	clean, hang up
2	Who'll	the scarecrow?		make, take down
3	Who'll	the pizza?
4	Who	_the walkway snow?
5	Who'll	the bread?
6	Who'll	the balance sheet?
7			bed
8	to	the heat?
0	XX71 111	(h 1
9	Who II	the logs?
10	Who II	the date?
11	Who'll	the dogs?	110
12	who'll	"One day	y"?
13	who'll still be	with me 25 years from	n this Sunday?
14	Who'll	me a mango when	I'm sick in bed?
15	Who'll	me I'm wrong whe	en it needs to be said?
16	Who'll	late with	me?
17	Who'll
18	Who'll	me straight when t	he world's off its axis?
19	Who'll	my cast?
20	Who'll	me scriptures?
21			and label it "Pictures"?
22		I've still got hair?
24	Who'll	the cat?
25		the rocking chair g
26	Who'll still be	there, 25 years from t	his Sunday?
27	Who'll		when the going gets grim?
28	0	y arm when the light i	n my eyes
29	I'll t
30
31
	I'll still be here
	25, 39, 48 years from this Sunday.						